Challenge Three Women Jurors At Opening of New Murder Trial

BIG CROWD ATTEMPTS TO ENTER COURT

Accused Slayer, His Mother And Victim In Background

Capital Punishment Will Be Sought; Defense Will Plead Insanity

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Challenging of three women who were called as prospective jurors because they said they were opposed to capital punishment under any circumstances, were the chief incidents today of the opening of the trial of Harry S. New for the alleged murder of Frieda Lesser.

The challenge of the prosecution was sustained by the court.

When court opened the corridors were thronged by persons seeking to enter the courtroom but only a handful were allowed inside the doors. It was necessary to rope off passageways through the corridors of the Hall of Justice.

New was brought into court while his attorneys were discussing legal points with Judge Gavin W. Craig, presiding.

He was pale and carried himself with an attitude of tenseness which told of restrained emotions. He bowed to his mother, Mrs. Lily Burger, and then seated himself beside his attorneys throughout the morning, listening intently to every word that was spoken.

Mrs. Burger Present

Mrs. Burger, New's mother, was accompanied by a friend and her daughter, Miss Edna Clancy, who is New's half-sister. At the last moment physicians had forbidden Mrs. Alice Lesser, mother of the dead girl, to come to court today. Her health has been delicate since the death of her daughter. It was stated she might be permitted to attend the trial later.

When court adjourned at noon two women were still in the jury box along with ten men.

The line of questioning during the morning showed clearly that the defense will lay first emphasis on the insanity plea and probably will also contend that Miss Lesser might have killed herself.

District Attorney Woolwine, on the other hand, took great care to lay a foundation to combat the insanity defense.

"Do you recognize the distinction between a person who is insane and one who is just dull?" was one of Woolwine's questions.

He also questioned closely as to prejudice against capital punishment. The defense indicated they will seek to prove that the killing was not premeditated if murder was done, and that it constituted manslaughter and not a capital offense. From the slow progress at the session today it was predicted it would be the end of the week before evidence can be started.

10 SURVIVORS OF U. S. SHIP LIBERTY, LAND

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—The steamer Kriemhilde has arrived at Emden with ten survivors of the American steamer Liberty, which was sunk by a mine off the coast of Holland, while en route to New York from Bremen. The fate of the remainder of the crew of 42 is unknown.

LOANS CHINA MILLIONS

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The Pacific Coast Development Company, which recently organized a Chinese-American bank with a capital of $10,000,000, half of which is to be furnished by Chinese interests, announced the completion of arrangements for a loan of $5,500,000 to the Chinese government.

Features Of New Trial

THESE are the people who figure the strongest in the trial of Harry S. New for the alleged murder of Frieda Lesser, his 18 year old sweetheart.

Harry S. New, the defendant, who has brought United States Senator Harry S. New of Indiana into the background of the case by claiming the senator is his father.

Frieda Lesser, aged 18—pretty, curly headed, brown eyed girl whom New is accused of murdering when she refused to become the mother of his child.

Mrs. Lily Burger of Glendale, Calif., who promises to lay bare the story of her entire life if it will save Harry S. New, her son, from the gallows.

Mrs. Alice Lesser, little delicate mother of Frieda Lesser, whose husband was a hotel keeper in Los Angeles and who disappeared while being sought by federal agents early in the year.

Edna Clancy, sister of Harry New, who stands steadfastly by her brother.

Attorney Lecompte Davis and Attorney J. H. Richardson of Los Angeles and John W. Claypool of Indianapolis, who defend New.

District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine and his assistant, Asa Keyes, who will ask that New be hanged.

Superior Judge Gavin W. Craig, who presides at the trial.

And these are outstanding points in the trial:

Is Harry New sane?

Is his statement that Miss Lesser was approaching motherhood true?

Will New's claim that Senator New is his father be proved?

Is it possible that Miss Lesser killed herself and New confessed in the hours following her death, to shield her?

If New is guilty, must he hang?

GREAT LOSS NOW FACED BY BOOZE HOLDERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—All hope of congress coming to the aid of the liquor interests before constitutional prohibition becomes effective, vanished today when the house agriculture committee voted 16 to 3 against a repeal of war time prohibition. The action was taken on a bill by Representative Gallivan, Massachusetts, and means that his measure will be permanently pigeonholed by the committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Bonded liquor held with the expectation that the war time ban would be lifted, now is "eating its head off" in warehouses at the rate of three and one-third million dollars monthly in carrying charges, it was conservatively estimated here today.

Owners of the liquor today flooded government officials with telegrams demanding what they should do "to get out from under." The telegrams began to clog the Washington wires as president Wilson let it be known he cannot legally lift the war time ban while peace is not concluded. This is the position he has held for months.

It was the decision of the supreme court, yesterday, which precipitated the rush of telegrams. In this decision the war time prohibition act was held constitutional. It seemed to blast the hope of liquor dealers for a short spell before the big drought begins January 16 when constitutional prohibition is scheduled to become effective.

No Adequate Answer
Government officials today were unable to give an adequate answer to the question of what to do with the bonded liquor at least from the point of view of the owner hoping to get back part or perhaps all of his investment and to shut off the carrying charge.

The estimated original investment today was placed at approximately $33,000,000 for 67,000,000 gallons of liquor with which the owners now seem to have been caught. This is in addition to the carrying charges. The bonded supply includes 63,942,931 gallons of whiskey, more than 1,200,000 gallons of brandy, approximately 1,500,000 gallons of gin and slightly less than 500,000 gallons of rum. These are government figures.

"I have discussed the question of the bonded liquor with several officials," said Federal Prohibition Commissioner Kramer. "It constitutes one of the big problems resulting from the decision of the supreme court. I am not yet prepared to say what can or will be done with it."

The difficulty is that under the war time law, liquor can legally be withdrawn from bond now only for exportation and for non-beverage purposes. And no one yet has found a non-beverage use for liquor in sufficient quantities to consume 67,000,000 gallons in a reasonable time.

Impacticable For Alcohol
To re-distill for the alcohol it contains is commercially impracticable. Pure alcohol at the distillery now brings 57 1/2 cents a gallon. It takes two gallons of whiskey to make one gallon of alcohol. And to get two gallons of whiskey out of bond costs $4.40 in taxes. The tax is $2.20 per gallon for non-beverage purposes. The $4.40, of course, does not include the cost of the whiskey.

A slight dent may be made in the bonded supply through use of the whiskey by toilet supply manufacturing plants as a base for bay rum and perfume if the price does not mount too high. Also drug stores will need a supply but this need is small in comparison with the amount on hand.

Officials said today one estimate is that the non-beverage uses now known would not consume the bonded stock of whiskey in 160 years. At this rate the whiskey would mean an investment of something like $100 a gallon in the 160th year, according to one statistician.

The possibility of getting any great amount of the stocks out of the country by export is slight. The law prohibits exportation after midnight of January 16. Dealers now are exporting it as fast as possible. In October exports totaled 233,000 gallons of all kinds of beverage liquors, commerce department records show. This was valued at $1.23 per gallon, according to records.

HUN ANSWER WILL AVERT RENEWAL OF WAR

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs Harmsworth told the House of Commons this afternoon that the Austrian food situation is so critical that there will be no provisions left in the country unless relief is given before the end of this week.

PARIS, Dec. 16.—Danger of possible resumption of hostilities as the result of Germany's attitude toward the protocol of the peace treaty was finally averted today.

The supreme council decided that the German reply to the Allied note demanding acceptance of the protocol, delivered by Baron von Lersner yesterday, was "most conciliating" and that a reply would be dispatched to Berlin "as soon as possible."

The council is making arrangements to have the Germans sign the protocol and make the treaty effective before Christmas.

Semi-official forecast of the German note yesterday showed the German government was willing to sign after certain comparatively minor concessions, but it was not until the supreme council met today that it was officially learned there was no further cause for continuation of preparations for invasion of Germany to enforce the peace terms.

To Study Scapa Flow
The supreme council today further ordered a joint session this afternoon of allied and German naval experts for the purpose of studying the form that compensation will take for sinking of the interned German fleet at Scapa Flow.

(Foreign Minister Mueller, in an exclusive interview with Carl D. Groat, published in this country Sunday, declared Germany's note would make sufficient concessions to insure allied approval. He also announced for the first time that Germany would send a commission of experts to Paris to reopen the question of reparations for Scapa Flow.)

In addition to the protocol note, the council took up the question of assistance for Austria. The decision was reached that American aid was absolutely necessary if Austria were to be saved from famine.

Wheat for Trieste

After Chancellor Renner had addressed the council in behalf of Austria, the council considered means for sending 20,000 tons of wheat to Trieste immediately. Renner asked that a regular food supply program for Austria be drawn up for the ensuing year to permit this country to resume "normal life."

The council declared it was especially necessary that the United States open credits to Austria.

To maintain Austria's territorial integrity, the council reached a decision to prevent separation of Vorarlberg from that country. (Vorarlberg was the westernmost district of the former dual monarchy of Austria-Hungary.)

SPECULATION RIFE AS TO HOME RULE STAND

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Speculation was rife today as to the government's program for Irish home rule, which Premier Lloyd George told commons last night would be announced in parliament December 22. British raids on Sinn Fein organizations in Ireland continue, according to reports received here. A Dublin dispatch said the Freeman's Journal was raided by the police today and its machinery dismantled.

PRICE OF PORK TAKES BIG DROP IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Retail prices dropped in Chicago yesterday. Sliced ham fell from 50 cents a pound to 40 cents. Bacon, formerly selling at 60 cents a pound, was down to 48 cents; pork chops went from 45 to 38 cents; pork roast from 40 to 35 cents; and lard was down to 30 cents, as compared with 37 cents last week. The lowering of prices was credited by a representative of one of the big packers to a reduction in the wholesale price of pork because of the cutting off of exports and the increased supply of hogs. There was no great change in the price of beef.

Palmer May Appoint Commissioner Of Fair Prices In Cal.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 16.—Attorney General Palmer will now go ahead and appoint a federal fair price commissioner for California acting on advice of Californians in Washington, or will seek the recommendations of the two United States district attorneys in California, it was believed here today.

Governor Stephens' action in refusing to recommend a fair price commissioner will tend to remove from the state administration any blame for activities of such an official, once he is appointed, it is said.

The governor in a telegram to Palmer in which he concurred in the belief of Ralph P. Merritt that the attorney general's plan is "not feasible at this time."

He added Merritt and he agreed the federal grand jury should proceed against profiteers, and promised to co-operate with the federal authorities.

Mother Accused of Son's Murder Admits Kidnaping Story Told Is Not True

By MILES W. VAUGHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 16.—Mrs. Esther Blake, accused of sacrificing her little dumb son, "Buddy," in an insane belief she could thus win back her husband's love, today admitted the boy was not kidnapped—as she first declared—according to Dr. Louis Souder, county physician. Souder said Mrs. Blake admitted walking out on the municipal pier at Ventnor with the boy Friday night and that she declared:

"I guess he must have fallen into the water."

Mrs. Blake, who is charged with "wilful murder" of five-year-old James W. Blake, Jr., has been ill in an Atlantic City hospital since Friday night, when she had asserted two negroes attacked her and "Buddy" on a street in Ventnor, choking her into unconsciousness and stealing the boy. According to Souder, Mrs. Blake started to repeat the "kidnaping" story to him.

"I told her she knew that was not true," he said. "She began crying and said 'no, it isn't. I can't remember just what happened. 'Buddy' and I went down on the pier. He was running ahead of me carrying my purse. I guess he must have fallen into the water.'"

According to Police Chief Sprague, William Pepper, a street car conductor, declares Mrs. Blake and her son rode on his car just before the boy disappeared. Mrs. Blake was nervous, Pepper said, and told him:

"The child annoys me; I've got to get rid of him."

Candidates Must Get Into Ring In So. Dakota Today

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 16.—Presidential candidates who hope to gain the vote of the South Dakota national convention delegates will have to enter the ring here today.

The state law, according to presidential interpretation, requires all candidates who desire the support of the South Dakota delegates, to file a declaration of principles before December 16.

James W. Gerard was the first one to step forward. In a petition signed by himself and six delegates to the recent proposal convention, Gerard summarized the national campaign issue as follows:

"Make and keep the country safe for democracy."

Declarations by Hiram Johnson, Miles Poindexter, Governor Frank G. Lowden of Illinois and others were to be filed today.

It is understood that General Leonard Wood will not file a declaration of principles, although he was given the endorsement of the Republican proposal convention.

The general, on filing a declaration, would thereby lose his standing in the army under the rule forbidding officers to participate actively in politics. This would also prevent the chance of retiring in two years with the pay of a major general.

Contempt Cases Against Strike Heads Continued

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 16.—Upon request of counsel of the United Mine Workers, who asserted the defendants are using all their power to induce the miners to return to work. The request was concurred in by government attorneys, except in the case of Alex. Howatt, president of the Kansas district of the miners' union, and leader of the "radical" element with the organization.

Howatt's case was continued until next Monday, when he will appear before the court to answer to charges that he is keeping some of the Kansas miners on strike.

War Against High Prices Starts Today In Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Organized warfare will be waged against high prices here today when state officials meet with United States Attorney General Palmer to plan means of hammering down prices.

The meeting, which will be held today, will be attended by members of fair price commissions,

AMENDMENT WILL BE ASSAILED BY LIQUOR MEN OF NEW JERSEY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Legal efforts to render invalid the constitutional prohibition amendment were started today in the supreme court. The retail liquor dealers of New Jersey under the name of William Duehne asked the court for permission to file an original bill testing the validity of the ratification of the amendment.

An injunction to restrain state and federal officers from enforcing the prohibition enforcement law in New Jersey after constitutional prohibition becomes effective, was asked.

Similar action is expected by the state of Rhode Island in a bill of complaint that it is expected will be filed in the court within a few days.

The state in this case will seek to have the amendment and the date it is to become effective declared invalid.

Decision Next Monday.

The New Jersey action was filed by George W. Tucker, a New York attorney. The court probably will announce next Monday whether it will consider the case.

In a brief to be filed with the court late today the liquor interests will claim, it was stated, that the proclamation of Secretary Lansing announcing the beginning of constitutional prohibition as January 16 was invalid because Ohio has withdrawn its ratification. This makes a new proclamation necessary and the amendment provides that one year must be given to dispose of liquor stocks after the new proclamation, the brief will contend.

The court will be urged to validate the position that states can at any time through referendum override the action of their legislatures in ratifying the amendment.

EX-ARMY OFFICERS GET L. A. CITY JOBS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 16.—Two former army officers today were appointed to municipal positions.

Col. George J. Ellis, formerly of the judge-advocate general's office Major Sterling S. Boothe, who in Washington, was appointed by Mayor Snyder as a member of the civil service commission.

served in France with the 160th Infantry, was appointed fire commissioner.

Col. Denis succeeds William Humphreys on the civil service commission and Major Boothe succeeds Francis Drake on the fire commission. Both fill vacancies caused by resignations surrounded by political tempests.

NATIONAL GUARD BATTALION MAY CENTER HERE

Expansion of Protective Organization Hinted at By Visiting Officer

There is a distinct possibility that a battalion of the California National Guard may be organized in this territory, with headquarters in Santa Ana and with the present Company F of Santa Ana as a nucleus. Represented in the battalion, if formed, would be Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton, and possibly Long Beach and Whittier.

That such an expansion of the guard system is contemplated in this vicinity was indicated today by Lieut. Col. James S. McKnight, assistant adjutant general, at a luncheon at the New Santa Ana Hotel tendered him and Major Harold Coburn under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, and following their inspection last night of the Santa Ana guard company.

After paying high tribute to local guard companies, past and present, and the support accorded them by people of the community, Col. McKnight hinted that a full battalion might be organized in this territory and pointed out briefly how such an organization would help the community. Company F is now the best guard company in the state, McKnight declared, but other cities are showing increased interest, and whether the company remains the best is up to the people of Santa Ana.

Guardmen Great Patriots
Men who work hard all day and then give two or three hours to military drill in the evening, without pay and without public recognition, are the greatest patriots that we have, in the opinion of Major Coburn, U. S. army inspector, who followed McKnight.

"You have a bunch of mighty fine chaps in your company here," said Coburn, "and there is no reason why it should not remain the best in the state. The members of the company and their commanders deserve all the consideration you can give them, and the War Department is willing to do all in its power to help the National Guard."

Both of the visitors were enthusiastic over Orange county's climate, soil and oil production, and general prosperity conditions. They expected to leave last night, but were prevailed upon to remain over all day today and have been enjoying a sight-seeing trip about the county, in company with Captain A. E. Koepsel and Lieut. Jesse Elliott of Company F. This morning they visited Fullerton and the oil fields, and this afternoon enjoyed an automobile trip to Newport Harbor and Balboa Palisades.

Major J. G. Mitchell was toastmaster at today's luncheon, and short talks were made by Col. S. H. Finley and J. L. McBride, past commanders of Santa Ana guard companies, and A. E. Koepsel, now commander of Co. F. Others present were Supervisors T. B. Talbert, Howard Wassum, N. T. Edwards, Wm. Schumacher, J. C. Metzgar, E. E. Vincent, Horace Fine, J. C. Hayden, Walter Eden, Jesse L. Elliott, Wayne Goble and W. R. Gordon.

The usual evening services will be held this evening.

Wednesday afternoon the evangelist will hold a meeting for women only, girls under 13 years of age not being permitted to attend.

BLIND GROCER IS ROBBED OF WEALTH

Cash and Checks Stolen From Paper Box Container on Shelf

Officers today are endeavoring to apprehend the party who yesterday afternoon stole a goodly sum of cash from the Burton grocery, located on Olive street, between Second and Third streets. The exact amount of real cash stolen cannot be determined by the proprietor, but it was the major portion of a total of about $150 in cash and checks.

Burton is nearly blind. He has been in the habit of keeping his money in a small paper box which he secretes back of candy jars on a shelf. Frequently it is necessary for him to take down the box in order to make change. The theft occurred sometime yesterday between noon and 6 o'clock in the evening and it is believed that someone who had seen him get the box for the purpose of making change is responsible for the theft.

The thief undoubtedly took advantage of his blindness. He and his wife were both out of the store for some little time during the afternoon and it is possible that the thief went into the store during this time, but it is generally believed that the man sneaked into the store while Burton was present.

A check for $42 made out by Chas. Havens is among the checks missing. Officers Ryan and Rogers, who made an investigation after dark last evening immediately following report of the theft, were unable to find anything that would give a clue to the robber.

FIRE THREATENS STORE BLOCK TODAY

Blaze Discovered In White Grocery at 4:38 This Morning

Fire discovered at 4:38 this morning in the Wm. White grocery at 317 West Fourth street threatened the entire block and but for the quick and efficient work of the Santa Ana fire department would have proved a serious conflagration. Spontaneous combustion is believed to have been responsible for the blaze. The monetary loss through damage to the stock had not been determined this afternoon. The fire started in and was confined to the rear of the room, used for the storing of surplus stock.

Glare of the blaze reflected on the bedroom window of Mrs. Wright aroused her little boy at an early hour and it was through the prompt action of the boy and his mother that the department was called before the blaze had gotten beyond control. The bedroom is on the alley at the rear of the store. Mrs. Wright ran out into Birch street, screaming fire and Dr. Pullin telephoned the department.

Two streams of water were played on the building, one on the roof and the other in the storeroom. The stock in the front, or main store room, was not badly damaged, the injury to stock here being from a small amount of water that gained way into the storeroom.

When the department arrived, tongues of flame were leaping towards the roof and out of one of the rear windows. The blaze was quickly extinguished when the department turned the big stream of water against it.

ports to customs collectors. In some cities whiskey brings $20 a gallon in "bootlegger" sales.

There is one more perplexing angle to the problem. Under tax laws, whiskey may remain in bond only eight years. At that time it must be removed and the tax paid. Much of the whiskey now in bond has been in nearly eight years.

GUARDSMEN ARE INSTITUTE FOR 2.2 MILES ARE WELL KNOWN MAN COMPLIMENTED GROWERS IS IS LAID TO REST ON SHOWING STARTED PAVED, OPENED

Assistant Adj. Gen. and U. S. Inspecting Officer In Santa Ana

"The United States government is for you, the governor and the California state government are for you and we of the adjutant general's office will do everything for you that we can. The governor authorized me to bring this message to you, and you may bank on it that the defense bill, carrying with it an appropriation for Guardsmen's pay will be passed through the legislature just as soon as possible."

This was the declaration and pledge last night of Lieut. Col. Jas. S. McKnight, assistant adjutant general of California, to the officers and men of Co. F, of Santa Ana, following inspection of the company by Major Harold D. Coburn, U. S. army inspector instructor, assigned to California. Major Coburn was pleased with the showing made, and Col. McKnight took occasion to compliment the company very highly for the spirit and enthusiasm shown during the inspection by the federal officer.

McKnight commanded the third battalion of the 160th, of which Co. L, of Santa Ana was a part, during the war, and only recently returned from overseas. Before returning home, he motored through Germany with Herbert Hoover's party, being in charge of the food administrator's escort.

Santa Ana Ranks High

"We in Sacramento know of Santa Ana, and our city stands high in our esteem," said McKnight. "And I can say this much, if you men live up to the traditions and the spirit and accomplishments of Company L you'll have to go some. We look upon Company F as one of the best National Guard companies in the state at the present time, and Santa Ana has every reason to be proud of your organization."

Col. McKnight and Major Coburn were accompanied by Sergeant Instructor McDonald, one of the four instructors assigned to California by the United States government, who gave the men brief instruction in the drill and maneuvers in which they had received only preliminary training. McDonald's headquarters are in Los Angeles, and he will probably be in Santa Ana every Monday night to assist in drilling of the local guardsmen.

The officers are touring California, inspecting present guard companies and looking over prospects for additional units, and with a view to early reorganization of the Guard system. Several of the Southern California cities have already petitioned for the organization of guard companies, and it is entirely probable that several additional units will be formed in the near future. There has been some talk of a second company in Orange county for the northern district with headquarters at Fullerton, and leaders of that community were being interviewed today on the subject.

At noon today the officers were to be the guests of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon here and this afternoon they were to be taken to see Newport Harbor.

The Farm Bureau Citrus Institute to be held at Fullerton this week opened this afternoon. Demonstrations in the afternoons and lectures in the evenings will feature the four days of the institute.

Tonight at the Fullerton Union High School, Dr. H. J. Quayle will give an illustrated lecture on citrus insect pests and fumigating. Tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night special attention will be paid to the walnut industry. The afternoon demonstration at the McCulloch orchard, three miles east of Fullerton, will be in charge of Dr. H. S. Reed of the experimental station. He will give demonstrations of citrus and walnut pruning. The evening lectures will be at the Fullerton High School by Dr. Quayle, who will discuss the control of the codling moth, and Dr. Batchelor, who will discuss walnut culture, with special reference to irrigation of walnuts.

A feature of Friday's program will be a talk by G. Harold Powell, manager of the California Fruit Exchange, on the future of the citrus industry.

Over Two-thirds of Canyon Strip Finished By Contractor Finley

The paved highway over Sulphur Hill in the Santa Ana canyon has been opened to traffic, and by the end of the week 2000 ft. more of canyon travel will be open to travel, trucking excepted.

"There is a strip 2.2 miles in length now open to automobile travel," said County Surveyor J. L. McBride. "This joins on to pavement above Sulphur Slide. It does away with the by-pass at the edge of the Santa Ana river around Sulphur Slide."

The 2,000 feet of paving that will be opened to traffic at the end of this week lies below the grade over Sulphur Hill.

There remains 6,000 feet of canyon road that has not yet been paved. Work on that pavement will be continued as rapidly as possible by the contractor, Steele Finley, and it will only be a short time until that strip is completed, which will give county pavement all the way from Olive to the county line.

A good by-pass is being kept up around the road where work is being done. The by-pass is in good shape for automobile travel. Heavy trucking is not permitted through the canyon for the reason that it would cut up the by-pass and would be likely to damage the new pavement.

WELL KNOWN MAN IS LAID TO REST

Funeral services of J. W. McLellan, well known resident of this city, were held yesterday at 2:30 p. m., at Mills & Winbiger's Mission Funeral Home. Services were conducted by Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First M. E. church.

Mr. McLellan was a member of that church for many years. Mr. Hershel Clayton sang "Nearer, My God to Thee" and "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me."

John Williams McLellan was born in Nova Scotia, Canada, August 14th, 1836, and died in Santa Ana, California, Dec. 12th, 1919.

He lived with his parents in Nova Scotia till he was twelve years of age, when the family moved to Ontario, Canada. They lived there till June, 1877, when they moved to Atton, Iowa.

While living in Ontario, John W. McLellan married Miss Armina Allen on Sept. 3rd, 1863. Miss Armina Allen was the sister of Prescott Allen and Mrs. S. W. Dawes, both of whom are now honored citizens of this community.

There were born to Mr. and Mrs. McLellan three children, one son and two daughters. John Frederick McLellan who is now living in Kern county and Miss Minnie McLellan, who lives here at 1531 Durant street, and who cared for her father in his latter years; and Martha Gertrude McLellan, who died in 1893. Mrs. McLellan died on Jan. 17th, 1916.

Mr. McLellan moved with his family from Atton, Iowa, to California, and settled in Santa Ana in April, 1886. He entered into business but later took up ranching, but moved into the city a few years ago, and located at the home on Durant street, where he was living at the time of his death.

He was ever generous to their needs. He was one of God's gentlemen.

"Like a beautiful, symmetrical, live oak growing in a desert country, which invites the traveler to rest in its verdant shade, and makes a comfortable land mark on the horizon, John McLellan's life and gentle refreshed those who came within the circle of his influence and made them better by his fellowship."

"The rains of death are past. Labor and sorrow cease. And life's long warfare closed at last. His soul is found in peace. Servant of Christ, well done! Praise be thy new employ; And while eternal ages run, Rest in thy Savior's joy."

EUROPE'S FINANCIAL SLUMP

The newspapers lately have had a good deal to say about the depreciation of foreign currency. Many a reader doubtless ignores this subject, insisting that the rate of foreign exchange is nothing to him.

As a matter of fact, it is something to him, and may have more to do with him than he likes before the present movement stops.

Why is European currency depreciating in comparison with American currency? Because Europe owes America a tremendous lot of money which at present she is unable to pay, and the amount is not decreasing, but rather increasing.

The United States lent the allies about $10,000,000,000 for war purposes. That amount is being added to now by the natural purchase of commodities from this country. It grows because Europe cannot pay even its current bills in money, and is not paying in goods fast enough to offset what it is buying from us. That is to say, we are still exporting more than we are importing, and so becoming more of a creditor than ever.

"Well," asks the indifferent reader, "isn't Europe good for it?"

Perhaps. It depends on circumstances. The European nations are so deeply in debt that their net resources are greatly reduced. The depreciation of their money represents, in a general way, their prospect of being able to pay.

Take that $10,000,000,000 of war money we lent our Allies. There are, say, 20,000,000 families in the United States. The average American family, therefore, has a $500 interest in that debt. Europe owes every American family about that much. If Europe's money drops to half its normal value, it means that the chances of collecting that debt in total are about fifty-fifty, or that there is a reasonable prospect of getting half of it.

Even if we count that money as gone, the matter does not end there. Depreciated currency, or an unfavorable rate of exchange, means that England, France, Italy, Germany and other countries cannot buy from us except at ruinous prices. That prevents their economic recovery. If they cannot buy, neither can they sell. If continued, it means bad times for Europe indefinitely. And bad times for Europe means, sooner or later, bad times for America. Nations prosper by trading with each other, and anything which prevents our selling to Europe and buying from Europe is bad for us. Thus it is easy to see that Europe's financial condition is everybody's concern.

What is to be done about it? The first remedy, advocated on all sides, is giving Europe immediately large extensions of credit to enable her to get on her feet industrially and commercially. That might seem like throwing good money after bad, but it appears to be the only hope. The second remedy is to lessen the debt by buying more from Europe—which, however, presupposes a business revival over there, such as would be stimulated by the new credits.

NEW CODE OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The conference of the Associations of the League of Nations, meeting in Brussels, has instructed a permanent commission to draft a new code of international law, which is to be studied by all the associations and submitted to the various governments. The commission proposes "totally to eliminate from the code the right to go to war."

There are here two distinct advances. One is the undertaking to make a general, comprehensive revision of international law, which it stands has grown up without plan or system, a vague, formless body of precedent and agreement, and has heretofore resisted all efforts to make it an organic whole like the United States Constitution, or, for example, the other is the explicit intent to outlaw war.

Hitherto international law has recognized, formally or informally, the right of nations to go to war with little regard to their provocation or motive. And many of the most cruel practices of war have survived because there was no legal authority to outlaw them. A successful war, started for whatever purpose, justified itself and in due time received the formal sanction of the "law."

If there is to be no formal sanction for war at all, then there can be no international sanction for the spoils of a predatory war, and the forces of decency and civilization will also be in far better position to make warfare more humane if it does occur.

The "outlawing" of all war implies, of course, the substitution of a system of international justice, along universally accepted lines, backed by international force sufficient to make it effective. Every civilized nation has already outlawed war in this way among the smaller units of which it is made up, and every community has similarly outlawed war among its own citizens.

This is one of the chief functions of the League of Nations. It will be fulfilled more or less successfully, according to the completeness with which the nations of the world enter into the spirit and purpose of the League.

Status of U. C.

Sacramento Union

In an address before the Sacramento Church Federation, Franklin Hichborn called attention to some matters which the people will do well to remember and consider.

One of the startling features of the address was the assertion that the question had been raised whether the university after all is a public institution.

It would seem that the mere fact that the people had given to the university over $13,800,000 in six years pretty clearly established the public character of the institution. But it must be admitted that this vast sum, taken from the pockets of the taxpayers, was placed in the hands of the regents over whom neither the people nor the legislature exercise or can exercise the slightest control. That the regents are in full control of the university can not be open to doubt. They are certainly as much in power as the trustees of Stanford university.

They dominate the affairs of the state university as completely as any board of directors controls any private corporation in the state. They are infinitely more free from supervision than any privately owned public service corporation.

The tenure of the regents sixteen years, carries them over the terms of four governors. Regents now on the board unless death should intervene, will be there in 1934, half a generation hence.

No friend of the university desires to see the great institution made the football of politics as would certainly be the case if the regents were elected. But it is a grave question whether there is anything democratic about the present system of university control.

One thing is certain, if the people are to pay the bills of the university, the institution must be made public in every sense of the word. It must be truly democratic and it must be made to serve the needs of the people.

The university must not occupy any twilight zone. It must not be the creature of any class or creed. It must be responsive to the highest interests of the public.

There is food for thought with suggestion that when the state constitution is revised the term of the regents should be reduced to six years.

A Strange World

Stockton Record

A boy in Montana, the only support of a widowed mother, was shot dead by the watchman of a coal yard while trying to abstract a few lumps of coal. When the officers visited the dead boy's home they found the mother huddled beside a stove with a little fire in it and with her feet frozen.

It is not on record what they said to that mother. The watchman charged with the shooting said he had no intention of firing to kill. Probably the mother could not be greatly interested in that fact.

Of course, the boy was stealing. There is no argument about that. Stealing is wrong; it is a crime; especially when a little of anything is stolen. But there is a sort of unwritten law that a man who steals bread because he is hungry and "broke" is not exactly a thief; not exactly guilty. It is doubtful if any judge or jury could or would find a boy guilty for stealing a few chunks of coal to keep a mother from freezing.

But it is not worth while to argue about that now. Even if the boy were living it is doubtful if any high priced commissions would be appointed to investigate the case and report upon whether or not the boy was justified in stealing the coal. It is only in the case of a suspected big steal that this is done and then invariably the report holds that it was justified or at least that nothing can be done. Nobody is shot. It is a strange world, masters.

Watch For Them

Chico Enterprise

Since not one of the regents of the University of California, according to the editorial statement of the Fresno Republican, the editor of the Republican being a regent, ever had any idea of imposing their own views on the faculty of the school or of laying down a platform of principles to be adhered to by the professors in their lectures upon governmental topics, the least the regents can do is to keep a sharp eye and an attentive ear to the utterances of the radical teachers, and see that those whose radicalism oversteps the bounds of patriotism and enters the territory of treason be weeded out of the university as quickly as possible.

There are 19 peeresses "in their own right" who may be admitted to the House of Lords. Now, don't go and make any foolish crack about "peerless leaders," when it's perfectly obvious that they'll be merely peerless leaders.

The 6 A. M. Alarm

Work A Blessing

From the Manufacturer's Record

"He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster."—Proverbs 18:9.

"For the people had a mind to work."—Nehemiah 4:6.

In the Book of Books—which it has been well said that it is not only a library in itself but that it is greater than all other libraries, a book which it took the Almighty 1600 years, speaking through forty men, to write—is to be found wisdom, divine, and the two extracts which we have quoted might furnish a text for many a sermon just now. The first states the great truth that the man who "is slothful in his work is a brother to him that is a great waster." Both classes are condemned by the Almighty Himself, and they should be condemned by every man who recognizes that work is divine instrumentality for the development of body and mind, individual and for the saving of the world.

The second quotation relates to a time when the people of Israel "had a mind to work." In the hour of emergency, when their country was at stake, they concentrated their activities night and day upon work. No time was to be lost in the great effort which they were then making to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. Through their heroic work, when all the people joined together and all "the people had a mind to work," success was achieved.

The people of America must have "a mind to work." Into their work they must throw the whole energy of their nature.

The "slothful" man and "the waster" must be regarded as slackers unworthy of the respect of anyone.

Any organization which seeks to limit the labor of its members, any individual who is slothful in business, who wastes his own time or that of his employer, and the one who is a waster of the substance of others, or of the country, will, unless they change their methods, never be blessed by God or man as "people who had a mind to work." They are not workers; they are shirkers, slackers, and their number grows alarmingly great.

Men are being taught that work is something to be shunned, when they should be taught that it is God's appointed way for all mankind's advancement.

God Himself works, and throughout all of the divine teachings of the Bible there is one unceasing strain in favor of work. The "slothful man," and the man who has not "a mind to work," are going directly contrary to the teachings of the Almighty.

This nation needs to be taught the dignity of work. We need to glorify work—work on the farm and work in the mine and work in the factory, work in the office, work in the school room, work in the pulpit. Men who have decried work, or who have sought to limit the output of laborers not merely by unduly reducing the hours of labor, but by reducing the amount of work a man may do in a given time, are flying directly in the face of the teachings of the Bible.

Work is a blessing, not a curse.

SONG

Weep, as if you thought of laughter!
Smile, as tears were coming after!
Marry your pleasures to your woes;
And think life's green well worth its rose!

No sorrow will your heart betide,
Without a comfort by its side;
The sun may sleep in his sea-bed,
But you have starlight over-head.

Joy, most changeable of all things,
Flits away on rainbow wings;
And when they look the gayest, know,
It is that they are spared to go!

ANOTHER SUGGESTION FOR NORTH MAIN.

Santa Ana, Cal., Dec. 15, 1919.

First—Form an improvement district of both sides of Main from First to Santa Clara.

Second—Secure from P. E. an agreement to take up their East track, which will leave plenty of room without any change on East side.

Third—Widen West side of street from Church street north to Santa Clara, 5 1/2 feet.

Fourth—Take down all poles on both sides of street and put in one row of neat iron posts near center of street from which an arm to the west could carry trolley wire for P. E. and an arm to the east carry ornamental lights for the city.

Fifth—From Church street south to First, widen the street the same as above, leaving 6 1/2 feet sidewalk outside of present business buildings, and widen walk to the west 8 or 10 feet, as may seem best. Of course, we on the east side should pay our share of the expense.

This plan will give us a sufficient width to our street and do the least damage of any plan yet suggested. Interfere with the east side and you ruin the "Cal. National Building," and the west side already has 300 ft. unimproved and the First National has been operated on so often that she is used to it, and I think ready for another.

Organization Plan Outlined

Mrs. A. J. Lawton, who has just returned from San Diego, where she has completed the organizing of San Diego county for the work of the Women's Legislative Council of California, gives a brief outline of the plan for organization and states that Orange county will, in all probability, be organized in the near future.

First, an executive committee of six is selected—a chairman and five others—who shall be county chairmen over the Literature, Membership, Speakers, Publicity, and Finance committees.

This executive committee will plan the work for, and call meetings from time to time for the furtherance of the work.

The voting body at such meetings will consist of the presidents and regular delegates from the organization affiliated with the council in said county.

The object of the Women's Legislative Council of California shall be to co-ordinate all organizations of women to secure concerted action on legislative measures.

Woman 80 Years Old

Says She Owes Her Wonderful Health to Vinol, Our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic

WOOSTER, O.—"The gripe left me in a weakened, run-down condition. Doctors had given me their best tonics without effect. As I have depended upon Vinol to build me up every spring for the past nine years with such good results I tried it. My appetite improved, my strength came back so I am not only taking care of my household duties, but direct the management of two large farms. I tell all my friends to use Vinol when they need strength."—Mrs. Martha Sickles.

Women who are run down, nervous, lack energy and working strength should take Vinol as it contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Hypo-phosphites, the very elements needed to restore a lost appetite, enrich the blood and create strength.

ling candles, and around it were interesting looking parcels, which, when distributed, proved to be pretty gifts the Travellers had prepared for each other.

Holly, mistletoe and red carnations emphasized the Christmas note in the living room, where the afternoon was very happily spent in visiting, and in the enjoyment of Christmas music on the Victrola.

The fact that the day marked the birthday of Mrs. A. W. Ames, a member of the class, gave her fellow Travellers the opportunity to shower her with good wishes.

Those who enjoyed the Christmas party were: Mmes. J. W. Bishop, J. F. Baumgartner, W. L. Tubbs, I. W. Van Cleave, A. W. Ames, George S. Smith, Stephen Ross, J. J. Roper, L. L. Shaw, H. R. Bristol, E. B. Smith, J. L. Dryer, M. F. Heathman, W. M. Smart, T. E. Stephenson, H. C. Dawes, C. S. Kendall and Miss Pauline Chandler.

Fifteenth Birthday Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noles, 1531 West Second street, gave a delightful party last evening, honoring the fifteenth birthday of their son, Charles.

After the serving of a delicious chicken and turkey dinner and sweet apple pie, the music began, and dancing was enjoyed until about midnight, when refreshments were served and the guests left, wishing Charles Noles many happy returns of the day.

Those present beside the hosts and honor guest were: Chas. Allen and daughter, Susie, and Mrs. B. Duarte.

A Boy Prodigy

Master Tomford Harris of Pasadena, is a prodigy. And he is the kind of a prodigy who reaches the hearts of everybody who sees and hears him. He is a real boy, a lad with light curly hair and large soulful eyes, red-cheeked and sturdy—all boy, who was highly enjoyed by an immense audience at the First Methodist church last night.

But, my! how the lad can play the piano! He sat at the big Steinway grand, and without a scrap of music played a whole program, even to Liszt's Rhapsody No. 13. On the program were two of his own compositions, a Reverie and "Indian Pony," when one could just hear the little cayuse galloping along merrily. The boy has many compositions of his own. "I don't know how many!" he replied when questioned.

Master Harris is but fifteen years of age, and his mother, Mrs. Kenneth Harris, has been his only instructor on the piano.

Kenneth is also a performer on the violin. His father is a talented writer, whose stories are read in the Saturday Evening Post.

When asked how long he has played the piano, Tomford replied: "Ever since I can remember."

Preceding the program, Clarence Gustlin, president of the Santa Ana Musical Association, told of some of the future plans of the association, and said a word for the high school bonds to be voted on January 13. For the Christmas community service, it is hoped to have Madame Ruenza Sprotte, the noted Bohemian contralto, for the drawing card. Coming events planned for the coming months are Harold Proctor for January; February, Tandier quartet, in which Oscar Dietz, former Santa Ana, will be a violinist; March, Miss Lalla Fagge, Mrs. Russell Coleman and Earl Fraser in a program; April, a new orchestra of Los Angeles. The May program has not been planned.

A brief talk was made by Rev. John Oliver, who hoped the well-known Santa Ana winds might do some good and in the future blow Santa Ana's musical fame about the country. The preacher said that anyone who has not been moved by the fine programs of the musical association is dead. He hoped an auditorium to cost $150,000 or $200,000 might be built to house musical program by which the community might be known all over the state.

Mr. Gustlin introduced the young player, who faultlessly rendered the following program:

Gigue ..... Scarlatti 1685-1759
From Foreign Lands, Curious Story, Catch Me if You Can, Entertaining Child, Perfect Happiness, Important Event (Scenes from Childhood)..... Schumann
From a Wandering Iceberg, Hungarian Dance No. 1, Macdowell, Valse Romantique ..... Debussy

NEW LAND ACTION BATTLE LOOMING

A motion will be made in Superior court on December 26, at 10 o'clock to have re-opened the action brought by J. A. Buckmaster against Elsie May Bertram for setting aside a contract under which the defendant was to purchase certain lots at Yorba Linda, according to a notice placed on file today by Attorneys Eden & Koepfel, counsellors for the defendant.

Leave will be asked, the notice said, to amend the cross-complaint filed in the action. An affidavit today by Attorney Walter Eden set forth that through inadvertence and oversight he failed to insert in his second amended answer and cross-complaint, the following clause:

"That the consideration for the purchase of the said real estate provided for in said agreement was an adequate consideration for the performance of said contract and the said consideration is fair and reasonable."

Involved in the case are a number of fine legal points. Buckmaster in his complaint alleged that the defendant failed to carry out her part of the agreement in connection with reference to the payment of taxes and water assessments. Elsie May Bertram claimed that she did not fail to make the payments in question, but that when she tried to make the payments she was informed that they had already been made by other parties, presumably by Buckmaster himself.

Following the submittal of evidence in the case of W. B. Nimmo, prominent bean grower, against W. N. Prince Company, for $200 damages, alleged to have been sustained because of alleged neglect by the defendant of a quantity of beans Nimmo had stored in the Prince warehouse, arguments today were scheduled to be heard tomorrow before Justice John B. Cox. Involved in the case is a fine point of law—to what extent a warehouseman is liable for damages done to goods left in his charge. Testimony relative to the care given by the Prince concern while Nimmo's beans were in storage was given by J. O. Washburn, an employee at the warehouse. Thermon Mead also testified. The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys Head and Rutan, and the defendant by Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus.

CABRERA SAYS MEXICO MENACED BY AMERICA

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 16.—Luis Cabrera, minister of the treasury, in a lengthy statement to the press today declared that if Mexico had joined the allies in the world war, she would have been absorbed by the United States, politically and commercially.

"The present attitude of the (American) interventionist press will confirm this in the eyes of Europe and South America," Cabrera said.

"The American imperialists interpret the Monroe doctrine as meaning that Mexico is an exclusive camp for American expansion. The wisdom of remaining neutral in the war is now proven."

VIOLATIONS OF AUTO LAWS ARE LAID TO 8

In complaints which were on file in justice court today and which were sworn to by County Motor Officer O. K. Carr, violations of state motor vehicle laws are laid to D. J. La Brache, J. M. Miller, J. Gardiner, C. A. Boddy, D. R. Le Reti, R. B. Cashire, W. A. Manis and T. L. Estes.

NEW DEL MAR STEP IS TO BE TAKEN

Because of certain errors appearing in the description of property effected in the petition of the F. D. Cornell Company, to abandon certain streets and alleys in the Corona del Mar tract, at the mouth of Newport Bay, Cornell today was granted a request by the board of supervisors to withdraw his petition. Another petition, corrected, will be filed.

The question of the protest entered by certain of the owners of property in the Corona del Mar tract, against the abandonment of streets and alleys sought by Cornell, was informally discussed at today's meeting of the board of supervisors. The matter will come up officially when Cornell's corrected description comes up for disposition.

The proceedings begun by Cornell with a view to having certain streets and alleys in the tract vacated is in line with plans his company has in view for the artistic improvement of the tract, he said today.

Aurele Vermeulen, a noted French-Belgian landscapist, has drawn complete plans for the improvement of the Corona del Mar tract, Cornell stated. In order to carry out these plans, and to give the Cornell company control of the property with reference to obviating certain conditions obtaining in the past at the resort, the abandonment of certain of the streets and alleys will be necessary.

Cornell proposes to have Ocean View boulevard, which at present is 110 feet in width, made into a sixty foot road. This boulevard, as laid out, runs along at the top of the bluffs at Corona del Mar. One of the reasons for promoting certain property owners to protest the abandonment of a portion of this boulevard is the fear that structures may be erected cutting off the view of the present property owners from the ocean, Cornell said.

LA HABRAN IN AUTO RUNS INTO SOLDIER

While driving in his automobile, J. J. Murphy of La Habra, struck an unidentified man wearing a soldier's uniform, according to a report which was made today to Under Sheriff Jack Iman. The man was not injured, Murphy told Iman.

FATHER-IN-LAW AND SON-IN-LAW IN CLASH

Father-in-law and son-in-law today were pitted against each other in justice court, where an action brought by J. T. Crowell and his wife, Ruth Crowell, against Crowell's son-in-law, F. J. Gist, and Gist's wife, Minnie Gist, for $100 damages, alleged to have become due for services rendered by Mrs. Crowell when she acted as a nurse for Mrs. Gist, was being tried. Recently Gist was fined $15 on a charge of battery, brought by Crowell. Trouble arose between the two men when Crowell raised the rent on premises Gist occupied from $6 to $9 per month. GRAND JURY RAPS CONDITION OF S. A. SCHOOL BUILDINGS

TEN CUBIC FEET TO BE LIMIT COLLECTION FREE TRASH

Council Proposes Districting City Into Six Sections For Convenience of Work

Division of the city into six districts, trash collection in each once a week, and ten cubic feet as the limit of free pickup by the city, is proposed by the city council on suggestion of Street Superintendent Hoy as a solution to a problem that has been a more or less vexing one for some years. The city attorney last night was directed by the council to draft an ordinance embodying features of trash collection as suggested by Hoy.

The practice of carting off large accumulations of trash and tree trimmings without expense to the individual property owners on whose premises the accumulation is made will be discontinued as soon as the ordinance becomes operative. The privilege has been very much abused by many land owners in the city and the excess trash has been hauled at considerable expense to the city.

For accumulations beyond the ten cubic feet limit a charge in multiples of 5 cents is to be made at the rate of 1 1/2 cents per cubic foot of net loaded amount. An estimate of the cost of removal will be made in advance of the pickup and the amount must be paid to the city employee removing the same, a carbon copy receipt to be given the owner by the employee. The city does not wish to be bothered with odd cent collections and for this reason payment in multiples of 5 cents is provided.

The cost to the householder under this plan will be very nominal as compared with what it would cost to have a large amount of trash hauled away by a private party, and will in

Blasting Started For New Road On El Modena Grade

YESTERDAY the road between El Modena and the County Park was closed by Wells & Bressler, contractors, now building a new road over the El Modena hill. Preliminary work was done on the road last week, but the road was not closed until yesterday. The new road lies on the hillside above the old road, and blasting on the new road makes travel below dangerous. A good deal of loose rock will inevitably roll down on the lower road and block it. In pioneer days the road was in the bottom of the draw, and the upper end was extremely steep. About thirty years ago the road on the hillside was built, partly by men working out their poll taxes. That road has since been improved a number of times. It is now to be abandoned in favor of the new road which will have a better grade than the road that is to be abandoned.

THINKS MEXICANS WILL PICK COTTON

With reports received from a number of Southern California points to the effect that a good many Mexicans are leaving for Mexico, Sheriff Jackson has made an investigation here. He is satisfied that the exodus of Mexicans from this state is not due to a desire to be in Mexico when threatened war breaks out but to the fact that cotton picking below the Mexican border offers them good wages.

"There is no more movement among the Mexicans at this time than is usual at this time of the year," said Jackson. "After the sugar factories close there is always some moving among them. If anything, there is less than usual, for all of the Mexicans have plenty of work here."

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR RELIEVING DISTRESS IN SERBIA

Committee Soon to Organize Under Direction of S. J. Cornell

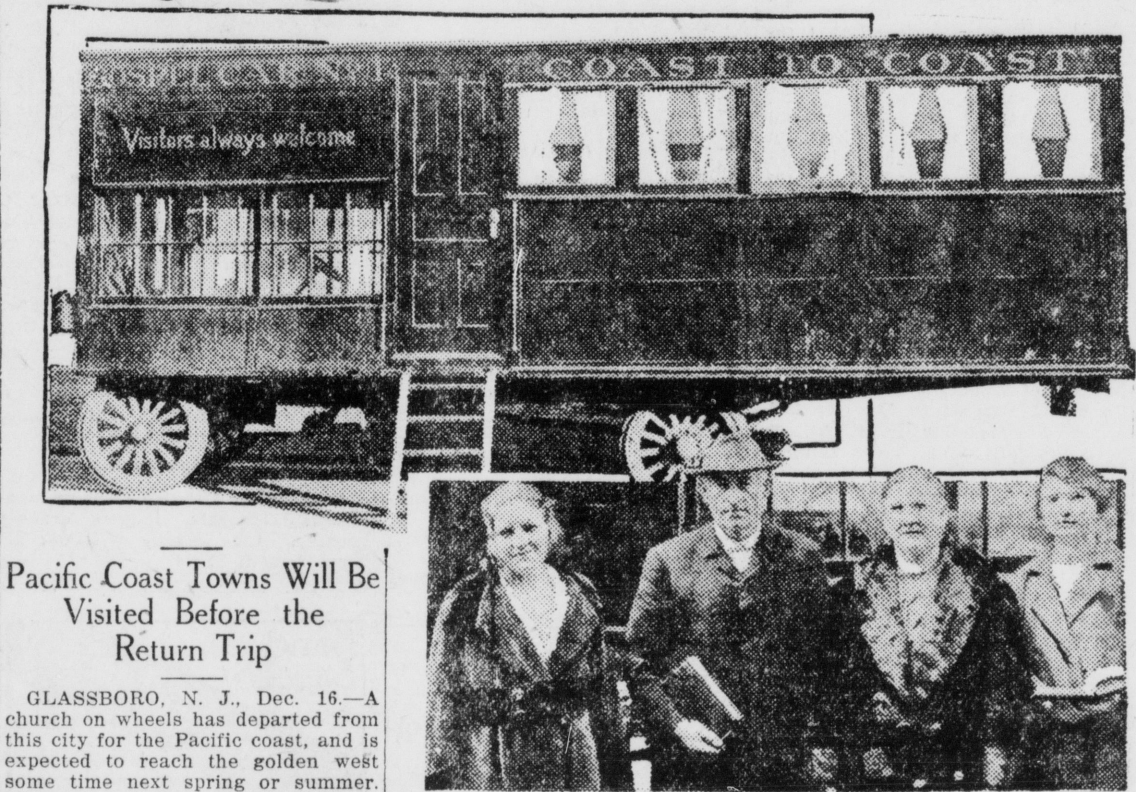

With one-fourth of the population of Serbia annihilated, and three-quarters of the survivors suffering from disease and starvation, and the people in rags, plans are being made for raising a Serbian relief fund in Santa Ana. Money, food and clothes are needed, any of which will be acceptable. S. J. Cornell has been chosen to head the organization for a local drive, following the visit here of Lieut. Minutin Krunich, who served in the Serbian army and who is now instructor in French and Serbian language at Berkeley, and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman of Los Angeles, chairman of the Serbian Relief committee work in Southern California. The drive campaign will be inaugurated just as soon as the necessary committees can be whipped into shape and necessary educational campaign conducted.

A self-sustaining people under normal conditions, and very industrious, the Serbians today are in their present condition purely because they have not had the necessary implements and time in which to get back to their former producing capabilities. The money raised in the drive throughout the nation will not be sent to Serbia, for there is nothing there that money can buy, except at the most extravagant prices. The cash will be used in purchasing supplies here and paying the cost of their delivery and distribution in Serbia.

Church On Wheels Coming To California Evangelist To Preach In Cities En Route

Pacific Coast Towns Will Be Visited Before the Return Trip

GLASSBORO, N. J., Dec. 16.—A church on wheels has departed from this city for the Pacific coast, and is expected to reach the golden west some time next spring or summer. It likely will tour the entire coast and stop at the principal towns and cities enroute before making the return trip by another route. The church, while not very large, is built for open-air meetings, which will be held in good weather. It is in charge of William Arthur Downer, evangelist of note, and is mounted on a big auto truck. With the evangelist is his wife and daughter, and a guest, Miss Gant, who takes part in the services. The car affords living quarters for the four and carries a small organ which is used in the meetings. For open-air meetings a part of the machine can be converted into a pulpit with room for the singers back of it. The party will travel by easy stages.

LOSER IN $65,000 LOS ANGELES FIRE IS KNOWN IN S. A.

More than passing interest was today manifested in this city in the $65,000 fire at the establishment of the Merchants' Transfer & Truck Company, 216 Market street, Los Angeles, early yesterday morning, by reason of the fact that the proprietor, E. E. Weber, is a brother of Mrs. Theodore Reuter, 801 Grand avenue, and that Weber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weber, reside near Garden Grove.

In the fire, Joseph C. Lawless, 76 years old, nightwatchman for the company, was probably fatally burned. 29 horses were burned to death, twelve motor trucks were damaged, and 100 tons of hay destroyed.

It was stated here today that the nightwatchman was injured in trying to remove the frantic horses from the burning structure. Lawless was kicked and trampled by the animals, it was said.

Weber's loss was partially covered by insurance. His biggest loss resulted from damage to loads contained in the trucks. One of the trucks bore a load of shoes. Los Angeles authorities have been unable to establish the cause of the fire.

POLY BASKETBALLERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Although his team was defeated by Redlands by a score of 34 to 18, Coach Ficken of the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school basketball organization, today expressed himself as highly pleased with the showing made by his athletes in their first game of the season. Redlands had played three or four games, while Santa Ana had played only a practice game or two. Despite this, the locals in the second half of the contest at Redlands yesterday more than held their own against their opponents. Ficken gave all his charges a chance to play. Those who were put in were C. Brown, H. Cock, J. Spangler, H. Knight, S. Bigelow, N. Richards, N. Cravath, J. Rensberg, C. Briggs and N. Stark. The basketball team has been fitted out with new suits, green in color.

'MIGRATORY WORKER' IS HELD AS VAGRANT

Ivan Scofield, who admitted to Justice John B. Cox that he was formerly a member of the I. W. W., and who styled himself a "migratory workman," entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of vagrancy in justice court and will be tried on December 31, at 10 o'clock. Scofield was arrested on North Main street, near the Orana oil station, late yesterday afternoon by County Motor Officer O. K. Carr.

DWYER WILL TAKE TRIP THROUGH CANAL

ANAHEIM, Dec. 16.—On Christmas day, providing nothing unforeseen happens, and the boat is on time, Mayor J. J. Dwyer and Mrs. Dwyer will leave San Pedro for a trip down the Pacific coast to Panama. They will pass through the canal and on to Cuba and the West Indies, stopping at all the places of interest and intend to enjoy themselves all the way. The return will be made through the Gulf of Mexico, New Orleans and over the Southern Pacific Sunset route. They expect to be absent six weeks.

ANAHEIM SESSIONS OF INSTITUTE ARE BEGUN AT 9:30 A.M.

With an invocation by Rev. Hatch, musical selections by the Anaheim high school orchestra, and a roll call by Superintendent of County Schools R. P. Mitchell, the teachers' institute opened in the auditorium of the Anaheim high school at 9:30 this morning.

Following the roll call, an address was to be delivered by Professor Frank E. Thompson of the University of Colorado, on "Human Aims and Interests," and by Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, on "Education for Citizenship."

Beginning at 2:30 this afternoon, sessions were to open at Fremont school, with an address on Serbian relief by Lieutenant Krunich, and an address on "Improving Methods of Study," by Dr. F. G. Bonser, of Teachers' College, Columbia University.

Following the completion of the Anaheim sessions, tomorrow afternoon, teachers of Orange county will attend the Los Angeles sessions in the Bible institute auditorium, beginning Thursday morning.

MORRISON WILL BE HERE FOR BIG GAME

Loftus (Big Spud) Morrison today is on his way home from San Francisco, where he recently was discharged from the service. He has been visiting for a few days with relatives in the northern part of the state.

Morrison was one of the "big injuns" in football circles here when he was going to school, and his coming is hailed with delight by members of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion, who are arranging a Christmas game with the Santa Ana high school football team.

Announcement by his father today that "Spud" had taken his departure for the South this morning brings to a realization the hope of the Legion that he would be here in time to participate in the game on the holiday.

RECKLESSNESS LAID TO MAN IN CRASH

Following a collision between two automobiles on West Fifth street, east of the Blankenbecker store today, Frank Urela, a truck driver, in justice court entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of reckless driving, brought by Nelson Dubois, and Urela's trial was set for December 30, at 10 o'clock. Urela was said to have been driving west on Fifth street, in rear of another, and larger truck. Dubois was stated to have been driving east. Urela turned off Fifth street, southward, it was said, and the machines driven by the two men collided and were considerably damaged.

PRESENT MAKESHIFT FOR ASSEMBLY HALL AT POLY IS HELD HEALTH MENACE

CRITICISM of the condition of some of the school buildings in Orange county, together with recommendations for the provision of increased facilities at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school, were among the principal features contained in the 1919 grand jury report, which was on file with the county clerk today.

The Orange Union high school auditorium was declared to be inadequate for the needs placed upon it and the general facilities of the school were characterized as insufficient for present needs. The report contained a recommendation to the school authorities that they take immediate steps to provide the necessary facilities.

Concerning the present assembly hall at Santa Ana Polytechnic high school, the report said:

"As to the necessity for an assembly hall there can be no question. The present makeshift is a constant menace to the health of the nine hundred students who are forced to use it."

This year's grand jury followed the procedure of grand juries during the past few years and called the attention of the board of supervisors to the necessity of devising, in the very near future, some plan for increasing room for the public officials at the court house. The present report particularly recommended that the supervisors take immediate steps to give the tax collector's office "additional room facilities."

With reference to county roads, the report commended the action of the board of supervisors in placing the roads of the county under the management of one official who will be responsible for the condition of the roads. "In many places," said the report, "the roads are getting quite rough and broken from the heavy truck travel and should be repaired at once."

The books of various officials in all the incorporated cities of the county were found correct, except a few minor clerical errors, the report said.

The blocking of highways along and at roadside markets came in for a rap at the hands of the grand jury which recommended that the supervisors pass such ordinances as may be necessary to prevent this condition.

"If necessary to prevent such obstruction we would suggest that this ordinance make a penalty against any person so parking or stopping automobiles along and at such markets, in such way as to block or obstruct vehicles passing thereby," said the report.

In conclusion the report says that the grand jury found "that there are more justices of the peace in the county than are necessary. In some cases," the report set forth, "the fees taken in by the justices of the peace are less than five per cent of their salaries. We would particularly call attention of the board of supervisors to the justices of the peace at Stanton and at Yorba. We would recommend that the board of supervisors take steps to consolidate the judicial townships."

Heavy Truck Travel Does Roads Harm, Says Report

The grand jury's report on county roads and bridges follows:

"The committee on public bridges have gone over practically all the roads in the county, and find that the paved roads are in fair condition, but in many places they are getting quite rough and broken from the heavy truck travel and should be repaired at once. We commend the Board of Supervisors in their recent action in placing the roads of the county under the management of one official who will be responsible for their condition."

"We would call this official's attention to the following roads and bridges which need attention: "The bridge across Fancieu street, at Artesia street, at south-west Santa Ana city limits, has three center stringers broken. These stringers are only 2x8, but we believe that owing to the extremely heavy travel on this road, the stringers should be 3x12, placed not more than 24 inches from center to center, instead of 30 inches as at present.

Find Stringers Broken

"The bridge crossing drainage ditch on Wright street, half mile south of Garfield street, west of the Santa Ana river in the Wintersburg district, has two stringers broken and large hole in planking near center of bridge.

"Big bridge across slough at south end of Bushard street, east of Huntington Beach, has planking at north end of approach broken.

"Bridge on Lamb street, on Westminster road, has stringers broken.

"Two pilings are gone from east side of bridge crossing Anaheim Bay.

"Small culvert on Hazard street, three-fourths mile west of Garden Grove, should be taken out. Bad hole and dangerous.

"Culvert on Golden West street, on Western avenue, near Seltzer, should be replaced by new one.

"Culvert on East Katella avenue at Hanson street, south of the town of Alamitos, should be renewed.

Ask New Culvert

"Culvert at Westminster street, three-fourths mile west of Verrano street, south of Westminster, should be renewed and made larger and higher.

"Bridge over drain on Speed avenue, between Bear street and Newport avenue, near Paulmarino, has mud sills undermined at both ends.

"Culvert on Culver road, at state highway, needs some new planking. One very weak at center of bridge.

"The large bridge crossing the slough on Newport road near Newport Beach city limits, has pilings in very dangerous condition and needs immediate attention.

"Bridge on Trabuca road, half mile east of Munger road, has galvanized culvert too near surface, and large hole in same.

"First bridge on Lane road, west of Culver road, on San Joaquin ranch, needs replanking.

"Culvert on Fairview avenue, south of Huntington avenue, north-east of Fairview, has settled or was put in over a foot too low.

Eastern Roadbeds O. K.

"Roadbeds in east end of the county are in very good condition—everything considered.

"The bridge leading from the school house to Olive street at 21 Toro should have a rail on each side, because it is used by the children going to and from school. The bridge also has a broken stringer in the center.

"The dirt road east of Peralta bridge, east of track, is in bad condition.

"Road south of Yorba street and east of Richfield is in bad condition.

"Bridges on Richfield road, at west end of Buena Vista street, is in bad condition.

"The culvert half mile south of Westminster on street running alongside and parallel to railroad, is too short for public safety and should be lengthened at least six feet.

"Richfield-Yorba Linda roads, owing to the extremely heavy travel, are generally in poor condition at present."

No Question of Necessity Of Assembly Hall at Poly

The schools report of the grand jury follows:

"We have visited all the schools in the county and, generally speaking, we find them in good shape. There are, however, a few exceptions:

"At the Diamond school house we found the roof in a very leaky condition and the ceiling considerably damaged.

"At the Alamitos school we found only three of the toilets which were usable, the water pipes in the girls' department were leaking badly and conditions very unsanitary and should have immediate attention. We understand that the trustees' attention has been called to these matters, but so far they have neglected to correct them.

"In the Delhi schools, we found the roofs leaky and the toilets in a very insanitary condition.

"In the San Juan school, the furnace is defective.

"In the Orange Union high school, the auditorium is inadequate. It has a seating capacity of about 250, whereas it has an attendance of 400. Not only is the auditorium inadequate, but the general facilities of the high school are insufficient for present needs. We recommend to the school authorities that they take immediate steps to provide the necessary facilities.

Say Peralta Building Bad

"We visited the Peralta School and found the conditions very bad. The roof leaks and plaster is off; they have a wind mill and tank, but no water. The trustees should take some action to immediately remedy this condition.

"At Yorba school we found that they had no water.

"At Brea school we found the toilets in bad shape, and also found that the building leaked and they had inadequate fire escapes. We recommend that these matters be attended to at once.

"The Savannah and Katella schools are badly in need of additional room. In the Santa Ana high school, both students and teachers are working under severe handicaps. On account of the great increase in the size of the lower classes, the need for adequate facilities to handle the work in physical education and for more class rooms is very urgent. At present the girls have to use as a gymnasium two narrow connected rooms that were formerly used as a woodshop and have to go across the hall of one of the main buildings to dress and undress in three small, poorly ventilated rooms. An adequate sized room to be used as a gymnasium and proper dressing rooms with sanitary lockers and shower baths should be provided.

Urges Larger Building

"The shops building has been outgrown and should be enlarged. A finishing and display room of adequate size should be provided. Additional rooms should be provided in the south side of the main building where space was left for additions. The entering class this year numbers 265, which is already larger by than any previous class. Judging by the past, a yearly increase of 40 to 50 students should be provided for. As to the necessity for an assembly hall, there can be no question. The present makeshift is a constant menace to the health of the nine hundred students who are forced to use it."

More Room For County Tax Collector Is Recommended

"It is generally conceded that our courthouse is wholly inadequate to handle the large volume of public business, and it will be necessary for the supervisors in the very near future to devise some plan for increasing room for our public officials," says the grand jury's report on county buildings.

"We would particularly call attention to the crowded condition of the tax collector's office. It is almost impossible during the busy tax collecting season for the public in an efficient manner owing to the crowded condition of his quarters. We would recommend that the board of supervisors take immediate steps to give him additional room facilities.

"The buildings at the county hospital are in first-class condition, well cared for and adequate for the needs of the county. We find the inmates are well provided for.

"The county jail is in good condition, clean and sanitary, and the inmates properly taken care of."

Grand Jury's Work Split Up Among Six Committees

The first page of the report of the grand jury reads as follows:

"Empaneled Nov. 10, 1919.

"To the Hon. Z. B. West, Judge of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Orange."

"We, your grand jury empaneled November 10, 1919, with C. S. Crookshank as foreman, met and organized by electing Willard Smith secretary.

"The following committees were appointed:

"Board of Supervisors: E. E. Campbell, chairman, Willard Smith and W. T. Newland, Jr.

"County Superintendent of schools Auditor and treasurer: D. F. Cook and O. E. Gunther.

"County Clerk, Assessor, Recorder, District Attorney and Coroner & Public Administrator: J. C. Mitchell and H. J. May.

"County Tax Collector and Sheriff: W. F. Criss and O. B. Byram.

"County Roads, Bridges, School Buildings and Public Buildings and Justices of the Peace: J. J. Harrison, L. M. Gardner, O. Rosenbaum and F. J. Harris.

"Cities: J. L. Marchant, W. W. Perry, W. W. Dungan, John S. Sheridan and Archie Henry.

employed Mr. M. T. Lee, a public accountant, to audit the various books of the city. Mr. Lee has spent considerable time in auditing the books, and we thought it would be a waste of public money to duplicate this labor. Mr. Lee informs your grand jury that while he found various minor errors, there was nothing materially wrong. He did, however, criticize the city for the loose manner in which its records had been kept."

On county books, the grand jury's report said:

"The books of the supervisors, superintendent of schools, auditor, treasurer, clerk, recorder, assessor, district attorney, coroner and public administrator, tax collector, and sheriff, have been carefully checked and found to be accurate, with the exception of a few small clerical errors which have since been corrected."

"All the books are neatly kept and worthy of especial commendation."

Ban on Blocking Roads at Roadside Markets Urged

With reference to blocking highways at roadside markets, the grand jury's report said:

"We recommend and ask that the board of supervisors pass such ordinances as may be necessary to prevent the obstruction or blocking of the highways along and at roadside markets. If necessary to prevent such obstruction we would suggest that this ordinance make a penalty against any person so parking or stopping automobiles along and at such markets, in such a way as to block or obstruct vehicles passing thereby.

"We further recommend that the board of supervisors take such steps as may be necessary to protect the traveling public by way of placing or having placed guard fences along drainage ditches that are within the right of way of any public highway.

"We also recommend that the board pass such ordinances as may be necessary to prevent any person from dumping rubbish within the right of way of any highway within the county."

Asks Beach Jail Change

"The city jail at Newport Beach is located in the City Hall, which is a frame building, thus endangering the lives of occupants in case of fire. We would suggest to the city officials of Newport Beach that they remove the jail to a more suitable place."

Books of Officials Found O. K. In Cities of County

The grand jury's report on incorporated cities in Orange county follows:

"We have carefully checked the books of the various officials in all the incorporated cities of the county, to-wit: Anaheim, Brea, Fullerton, Newport Beach, Santa Ana, Seal Beach and Stanton, and find, with a few minor clerical errors, the books to be correct.

"Your committee did not check the books of the various officials of the city of Orange, for the reason that the city trustees had recently employed Mr. M. T. Lee, a public accountant, to audit the various books of the city. Mr. Lee has spent considerable time in auditing the books, and we thought it would be a waste of public money to duplicate this labor. Mr. Lee informs your grand jury that while he found various minor errors, there was nothing materially wrong. He did, however, criticize the city for the loose manner in which its records had been kept."

On county books, the grand jury's report said:

"The books of the supervisors, superintendent of schools, auditor, treasurer, clerk, recorder, assessor, district attorney, coroner and public administrator, tax collector, and sheriff, have been carefully checked and found to be accurate, with the exception of a few small clerical errors which have since been corrected."

"All the books are neatly kept and worthy of especial commendation."

Money In Treasury Checks With Amounts Books Show

"The money in the county treasury was counted on November 29, 1919, and found to agree with the amounts shown by the treasurer's books," the grand jury's report says, continuing:

"We found the following money on hand:

"Amounts and kinds of money in county treasury:

"Money loaned to banks at 2 per cent, $750,500.

"United States gold coin, $20.

"United States silver coin, $130.03.

"Currency, $336,044.

"Warrants, $197,568.37.

"Money in transit, $25,340.56.

"Total of all money in county treasury, $1,309,602.96.

"Your committee also checked the collateral held by the treasurer as security for money loaned to banks at 2 per cent interest, and found all the securities, as listed, to be on hand.

"Your committee also checked the books of the following drainage districts, and found that they agreed with the amounts shown by the county treasurer's books, to-wit:

"Bolsa Drainage District, money, $1,261.32.

"Delhi Drainage District money, $104.79.

"Newbert Protection District money, $24,263.82.

"Newport Drainage District money, $132.70.

"Olive, West Orange Protection District, $2,823.17.

"Talbert Drainage District money, $7,791.50.

"Westminster Drainage District, $1,335.61."

More Justices of Peace Than Needed, Says Report

"The books of the various justices of the peace throughout the county were examined and found correct," says the grand jury's report, "with the exceptions that we find a note by last grand jury of a discrepancy of $2 in Justice of the Peace Bow-and no record of this having been corrected; also found Justice of the Peace Whitens of Laguna Beach held receipts to correspond with business done in his office, but find a discrepancy of $2 in the books while Justice of the Peace Philbrook was acting. We would recommend that the proper officials take the necessary steps to have the discrepancies corrected.

"We found that there are more justices of the peace in the county than are necessary. In some cases the fees taken in by the justices of the peace are less than 5 per cent of their salaries. We would particularly call attention of the board of supervisors to the justices of the peace at Stanton and at Yorba. We would recommend that the board of supervisors take steps to consolidate the judicial townships."

Praise System of Buying Through Purchasing Agent

"The county purchasing agent is handling the affairs in his office in a very efficient manner, and is saving the county considerable money," says the grand jury's report on county officials. "Buying through a county purchasing agent is a vast improvement over the old system."

"The county aid commissioner is peculiarly fitted for his position, discharging his duties in a very efficient manner."

"The horticultural commissioner, and the sealer of weights and measures are performing their duties in a commendable manner."

ANAHEIM MEN INJURED IN WRECK AT ZAFERIA

ANAHEIM, Dec. 16.—Fritz Kemper and Geo. Baker, employees of the Anaheim Beef & Provision Co., are in the Anaheim hospital suffering from injuries received at Zaferia station, Long Beach, when a Pacific Electric express car from Newport ran into the truck in which they were riding.

Fritz Kemper received a broken pelvis and is in a very serious condition. Geo. Baker was badly bruised and had one knee-cap broken.

Window Displays

Unquestionably the Register has literally thousands of readers for whom it is not practicable to "window shop" in Santa Ana. Many of them are pressed for time and must rush into town and do their Christmas shopping in a hurry and get back home. Others, on account of sickness in the family or other cause, cannot come into town at all, but must do their Christmas shopping by proxy. To all such, especially, and to everybody in general the Register desires to render every possible assistance—therefore the effort to take the window displays of the Santa Ana stores and shops into the over 6,000 homes in Orange county where the paper is a regular evening visitor.

Many Gift Suggestions

Many gift suggestions are contained in the extensive D. L. Anderson display of dishes, silverware, etc., in the Grand Opera House building on East Fourth street. There are sets of dishes of attractive design, earthenware, vases, pots, etc., decidedly ornamental, woven baskets, beautiful light shades, sugar and creamer sets, and many other articles for the dining and living room tables too numerous to mention. Silverware is also suggested as a most suitable gift for Christmas, and the D. L. Anderson company is showing an extensive line of Community Plate which offers any number of articles and sets that will look well on any table at the Christmas feast.

Why Not New Wall Paper

The best present that some people could receive would be new wall paper for the living room or bedroom, and the C. F. Mitchell paint store is showing a generous assortment of new wall paper from which, no doubt, a design to please particular tastes may be selected. Possibly the new paper can't be hung so as to share in the Christmas celebration, but the pleasure will be there just the same when the gift is received and there will be another celebration when the newly decorated room is finally opened, even though it be several days after Christmas before the work can be done. There are a couple of beautiful paper designs in the Mitchell window and many others await inspection inside the store.

S. Hill and Son

Decidedly useful and enduring articles are the Christmas offerings of S. Hill and Son, hardware dealers. For the family who love waffles there is a waffle iron all ready and waiting, a source of "good breakfasts" for many moons to come. Carving Sets, meat grinders, roasting pans and Pyrex oven wear are also suggested with thermos bottles for members of the family who must take their lunch or for all the family on a motoring picnic party.

Presents for Men

If in doubt what to give "your man," the Wardrobe's windows contain many suggestions of things that he will like, suitings, traveling bags, ready to wear suits, handkerchiefs in fancy boxes, etc. Then there are gloves for all purposes, socks in the newest colors, hats and caps. If "he" must be outdoors in the cool evenings or mornings, a full line of Patrick mackinaws is offered from which the one of desirable colorings may be selected.

Sweetie's Christmas Gift

"Before deciding on Sweetie's Christmas gift, come in and see our assortment of boxes and baskets," says the Cherry Blossom and puts two or three in the window to indicate the variety of candy filled boxes to be found inside. Stepping inside, one finds, as advertised, a delightful assortment of Christmas boxes and baskets, ranging in price from forty cents up and "Sweetie" will surely be tickled when she receives one of them at Christmastime. There are some boxes just designed to place the candy before her in tempting manner and others where the candy and the container assume equal importance, the sweets for immediate disposition, and the box or basket a thing of permanent ornamentation and use on table or dresser. Also, the Cherry Blossom shows a variety of bulk candies, all made in their own shop, which will meet the Christmas demands of the whole family for "goodies."

Mateer-Gemmel Offerings

The Mateer-Gemmel drug store windows, well decorated and arranged, contain many suggestions for Christmas presents, and undoubtedly

CAMPAIGN PLANNED TO HELP SERBIANS

declared Lieut. Krunich, during his visit here. "They are self-supporting people, but conditions today make it impossible for them to produce what they need, and it probably will be six months before they can commence even to produce a semblance of the necessities. Serbia is a great agricultural country. They have no implements with which to farm. The period of the next six months is when they are going to need succor—and upon the prompt and generous action of the United States is going to depend whether thousands who today are suffering for the lack of necessities—food, clothing and medicine—shall remain to help restore the country or surrender their lives to the conditions obtaining."

"There are not less than 75,000 full orphans who have been found since the war and there are other thousands who have one parent or one or two relatives left. They must be saved. It is for them that the strongest appeal is made."

Saddest Sight in Europe

Mrs. Charlotte Kellogg, author of "Women in Belgium," says that "the saddest sight in Europe today is that of the many children of eight and ten and twelve years who look and act like children of four and six and eight. Malnutrition has weakened them—has retarded their growth and development. Their feeble voices cry to the world for help."

A part of the work here will be the securing of pledges of so much money for a period of six months, in order to raise a fund that will keep a stream of supplies flowing into Serbia constantly for the relief of the sufferers. One local woman already has given $100, following the hearing of an address by Lieut. Krunich.

AMUSEMENTS

Premier of Super-Picture Here

Ed Yost, of the Yost Theatre, has just received word from Mack Sennett that the title of his new super-production is "Down on the Farm." This production will have its premier at the Yost Theatre on Dec. 28, 29 and 30th, before being shown in any other city in the United States or Europe.

It is estimated that thirty million people view every Mack Sennett picture. Taking these figures for a basis it is safe to say that inasmuch as "Down on the Farm" is a special production, that nearly six million people will see this picture. It is believed that at least 50 per cent of the population of Santa Ana will view the production during its premier presentation at the Yost Theatre.

During the ten years that Mack Sennett has produced pictures which have made the world laugh, "Down on the Farm" marks his fourth effort to produce a super-feature, the others being "Tillie's Punctured Romance," "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," and "Mickey."

presents for any member of the family will find a vast array of good suggestions in the Kafateria Shoe Store windows at 209 West Fourth street. In a Christmas setting of red and green streamers and with an imitation brick fireplace as a background, this store shows a variety of "Holiday Specials" for every member of the family—shoes in newest styles and colors for old and young, but especially attractive are the little shoes for John or Mary, just like grown-ups. Also, there are many attractive slippers in felt with fur trimmings and leather moccasins. Another window is also devoted to showing a variety of shoes, indicating a most complete line to be found inside, and a perpetual reminder to "give useful gifts for Christmas."

Wiesseman's Variety Store

Claiming to have the largest stock in Orange county to select from, the Wiesseman Variety Store at 114 West Fourth street is chock full of Christmas suggestions, and the great variety of the stock is reflected in the show windows, which are fairly bulging with things to make the little ones happy—and the big ones, too. There are "choo-choo" trains and engines, toy tanks, and fire engines and games, and Santa Claus only knows what all there are picture books which are not only good to look at, but also have an educational purpose. But, oh, Girlies, that window to your right is perhaps the best for you—filled with dolls especially for YOU. There are big dolls and little ones, with blue eyes and brown, light hair and dark, and all dressed up for the Christmas party. "The Toy Store" is the name applied to Wiesseman's, and there is surely there a toy or something else for every member of the family, and at prices to suit any pocketbook.

CITY WILL HAUL SOME RUBBISH AWAY FREE

a measure compensate the city for the extra time and space required to take the trash.

No Cost For Removal. The city will continue to remove free all lawn and small flower trimmings if they are not allowed to accumulate to a greater amount than ten cubic feet.

Trash in the districts must be set out on the date designated for collection in each district and if property owners watch their step and keep their places cleaned up some week, the accumulations are not apt to pass the maximum limit.

In the event of cutting down trees or the accumulation of a large amount of trash or trimmings, arrangements may be made with the street department for a pickup on any day of the week, without regard to the set day for pickup in the district in which the accumulation is made.

Approaches to the Main street bridge are to be made as soon as the legal formalities can be carried out. Concrete pavement will be used and the work will be paid for by the abutting property owners. On the north end of the bridge the street will have to be paved for a distance of thirty feet, on the west side of the street and for fifty feet on the east side. On the south end of the bridge a distance of fifty feet will be paved the full width of the street.

The improvement is to be made on suggestion of Greenleaf and Tubbs upon his motions that actions were taken that will result in the improvement.

The approaches are rough and in bad condition and paving will put on the finishing touches to the fine bridge that spans the Santiago creek on one of the main arteries into the city.

Parton Paving Held Up

On suggestion of the city engineer, improvement of Parton street with rock and oil will be held up until after the winter rains. With the probability of rains at any time now, it is believed application of rock and oil at this time would result in some part of the work being damaged and its completion long delayed. The street will be graded and rolled and the bed of the street will be better packed by being kept open for the time.

Tenth street will be improved with the same material from Van Ness to Parton, completing the paving of Tenth from Broadway to Parton. The city attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary resolution of intention to do the work. Wells & Bressler have the contract on Parton and have a petition out on Tenth.

Appointment of Dr. John Wehrly as a member of the city health board makes that body legal and completes the membership of the board. In the appointment of the board of health, it was discovered recently that an error had been committed in not naming a physician as a member. The law requires that at least one member of the health board be a physician. M. R. Heninger had failed to qualify and Dr. Wehrly was appointed in his stead.

Cash in Advance Hereafter

A protest from L. H. Neff on the amount of the charge by the city for running a sewer line to his property, emphasized the condition obtaining in this city where lots originally laid out to face certain streets are later changed to face on different streets by making the platted fronts the backs of such lots. This situation was discussed fully at the last meeting of the council and the liability of the city for running sewer and water service to such property was settled.

In such instances it often is necessary to run a line many hundreds of feet in order to make a connection, and the council decided that the city is not under obligation, and that the individual property owner would have to pay the cost of sewer and water installation. Originally the sewer system was laid out to give service by connection in front of the platted lots. Change in the facing of the lots by property owners to sell or use them to better advantage has undoubtedly been done to the financial gain of the owners and the council does not feel that it should be made the "goat" and be called upon to bear the extra financial burden. Buyers of city lots should look well to this feature before buying.

The bill rendered Neff is for $76.99, the actual cost of the installation of the line to his property. The council adopted a rule that hereafter when such circumstances arise and the sewer department was asked to run such a connection, that an estimate of the cost be made and payment be demanded in advance of the work being done.

Flower Street Sewer

The injustice of requiring Shaw & Russell to bear the full expense of putting in a main sewer on Flower from Myrtle north to a point near Pine street as a part of the conditions under which its Sun-Kist subdivision would be accepted, was discussed at some length. There are a number of vacant lots on the west side of Flower that have no sewer outlet. With the sewer installed at the expense of Shaw & Russell, it would become a statement of the city, and should the city later want to connect with the sewer they would have the service without paying anything toward the installation of the main line.

The city attorney was directed to prepare a resolution providing for the installation at the cost of the abutting property owners. In the meantime, Shaw & Russell will endeavor to secure an agreement from the property owners to pay their pro rata of the cost, and if they are successful in this, the added expense of legal proceedings will be saved and the work completed more quickly.

The main can be put in cheaper now than it can later by reason of the fact that a ditch digger has been engaged for the work on the Sun-Kist tract. The volume of the work makes it possible for the contractor to do the work at a less figure than he would have to charge for a small piece of work.

Turn Down Fertilizer Bids

Bids for the fertilizer at the city barns for the next year were opened and all were rejected. The bids were as follows: A. D. Pyatt, $250; Wayland Wood, $205; P. C. Edmunds, $205; Shelley Horton, $180.

Since the expiration of the Horton contract two weeks ago, the fertilizer has been sold by reason of the fact that the load at the barns, a part of the accumulations for the two weeks bringing $16.50 cash, with the amount on hand yesterday estimated at a value of $7, making the total for the two weeks $23.50, or an average of about $47 per month. The product of the stables for the two weeks is an average for the year, according to the statement of the street superintendent. He expressed the belief that the city would be the gainer by selling the fertilizer by the load as it could, and all bids were rejected. The street superintendent was authorized to dispose of it by the wagonload at the barn.

Carrying a statement of the value of the maximum amount of produce carried and stored in the packinghouses and warehouses along the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific tracks was $2,907,000, a petition was presented asking that in the event of the institution of a branch of the fire department by the city, it be located in the east part of town in the vicinity of the packing houses. Walter Collins was present to speak on the petition.

The maximum storage is for about three months in the fall, according to Collins. He called attention to the fact that should a fire break out in that district, it might result in great destruction. He said that he believed a difference of five minutes in the arrival of a fire truck might mean the difference between a small blaze and one that would wipe out the valuable industries along the tracks.

The petition was signed by many of the property owners and the firms holding leases on the buildings in the district. The valuation given on produce does not include the value

METZGAR WEEPS AS HE READS OLD MENU

Eats That Cost 50 Cents 20 Years Ago Cost Dollars Today

With turkey selling around 65 cents per pound dressed and other of the Christmas delicacies soaring in like proportions, it makes one who is a good "performer" at the table weep crocodile tears to read of a hotel menu of twenty years ago that were available to the holiday hungry at 50 cents per plate. Jim Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has had the difference in conditions twenty years ago and today brought to his attention, forcibly by publication in the Weekly News Standard of Uniontown, Pa., giving the menu of a hotel there on Nov. 29, 1899, when turkeys were selling at 8 cents the pound. Listen to this and weep—and the whole for the modest sum of 50 cents:

This was the Thanksgiving dinner at the Lafayette hotel, all for a fifty-cent piece: Blue points, New York count, clam soup, green turtle soup, salmon with egg sauce, mixed pickles, queen olives, celery hearts, prime roast of beef with brown gravy, roast sucking pig with apple sauce, canvas back duck with crab apple jelly, roast turkey with cranberries, wild turkey with oyster filling and chestnuts, quail on toast, sweetbreads with mushrooms, deviled crabs, fried oysters, chicken croquettes with French peas, cream puffs with wine sauce, lobster salad, beet salad, chicken salad, creamed potatoes, browned sweet potatoes, asparagus tips on toast, new wax beans, cream slaw, French peas, sliced tomatoes, cucumbers, new radishes, new onions, lettuce, oyster plant, fruit cake, hickory nut cake, Minnehaha cake, pound cake, mince pie, citron pie, pumpkin pie, brick ice cream, orange ambrosia, angel ice, oranges, bananas, salted almonds, California grapes, coffee, cocoa, tea, milk, black mocha, java, buttermilk, rocheport cheese, claret and rhine wines, Mumm's extra dry.

TELLS OF RUSSIAN PLATINUM MINING

A number of interesting facts about platinum are contained in a report made to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce by Consul A. R. Thomson, who is at Omsk, Siberia. According to Mr. Thomson, the mining districts in the Ural mountains in Russia produced 90 per cent of the world's supply of platinum.

The metal is produced principally in three districts and in this region is usually deposited in layers of sand from three to seven feet thick along the river beds and its fraction of a dram up to one-half ounce of crude platinum for each ton of sand. Large nuggets of platinum are rare, says Mr. Thomson, but they have been discovered in weights varying up to eighteen pounds. The metal was discovered in the Urals in 1819, but was not utilized until 1825, when the Russian government began to use it for coining three-ruble pieces.

"Since March, 1919," Mr. Thomson goes on, "the Omsk government has controlled the sale of platinum in the territory under its jurisdiction. This control requires that producers of platinum sell the crude metal to the government refining assay office, which pays the producers half of the value of the metal in Russian paper money, the balance being paid in currency after the sale of the metal by the State Bank. The occupation of the Ural districts by the Soviet government's authorities in July and August, however, limits the Omsk government's control to such supplies of platinum as may have been brought within its jurisdiction."

ANNOUNCES ITS BIG SHOW FOR FEBRUARY

Prospects Bright For Finest Display at Citrus Exhibition

Official announcement of the Tenth National Orange show to "its good friends throughout the state," in the form of over 5000 letters, has been sent to orange and lemon growers, business men and organizations representing various communities in California, by the San Bernardino show committee.

That the show will be held at Urbita Springs is definitely announced in the letter.

The story of the orange industry, the growth of the orange show and its value to the industry in the entire county is contained in the letter, which follows:

To our Friends Throughout the State:

Greeting: When the good Padres planted the first orange tree in California, little did they surmise that from it would spring in later years, the principal horticultural activity of the state an industry now amounting to $50,000,000 annually! Like wise, when the first National Orange show was held in March, 1911, few, if any of us, discerned its future possibilities or even dreamed that it was destined to become what it is now acknowledged to be—California's greatest mid-winter event.

The Tenth National Orange show will be held at San Bernardino, February 13-23, 1920, and staged in beautiful Urbita Springs park, popularly known as the playground of the Orange belt, where the facilities for taking care of our vast number of patrons are ideal.

Neither time, effort nor expense will be spared in making the Tenth National Orange show by far surpass anything of its kind heretofore attempted in Southern California.

Strictly adhering to our motto that "the best is none too good for our exhibitors," we have purchased, at an enormous expense, another huge canvas auditorium and now own three of the largest and finest equipped exhibition tents in the United States.

We have every reason to believe that our attendance, which at the last show exceeded one hundred thousand people, will be even greater for the coming event.

As usual we will maintain a fruit exchange department, industrial and automobile section. The floor space in each being materially increased.

Live your life and keep awake.

ATTENDANCE AT COLUMBIA IS LARGEST

Many Reasons Assigned For Increases In College Registration

Anxiety to get back to civilian life; to pick up the odd ends of a college course where they were dropped, and continue the training started in war work—which in thousands of cases was the first opportunity for pursuit of knowledge—given as reasons for the increased activity on the college campuses this year.

Leading the list of American colleges and universities in attendance is Columbia University, New York City. Gaining 25 per cent since last year, the attendance today stood at 24,815, including all the schools in the corporation. A year ago the enrollment was 19,514.

(Claiming second place is the University of California, Berkeley, with 9,427 enrolled in the winter term. The summer registration was 5,456; or a yearly attendance of 14,883. The enrollment for the winter season is 53 per cent above that of last year.

The largest registrations in the country continue this year to be in the middle west, with the exception of the largest two. The University of Minnesota, St. Paul, enrolled 7,006, an increase of 1,635 over last year. Illinois ranked fourth with 7,214 as against 6,700 last year. Wisconsin was next with 6,875, or 1,872 more than we enrolled in 1918-19.

In the east Harvard ranks highest. This year there were 5,017 students registered at Cambridge, while last year there were but 3,894. At Yale there are 3,133 or 730 more than in the last session.

Registration of other large colleges of the country compared with last year follow:

FRENCH RELIEF WORK ASSIGNED METHODISTS

Thirty-two Villages Placed In Charge of Church Workers

Announcement has been made by James Allen Geissinger, executive secretary of the San Francisco area of the century conservation committee of the Methodist Episcopal church, that 20 more villages, making a total of 32, in the devastated area about Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood have been assigned by the French ministry of reconstruction to the Methodist Episcopal church for exclusive rehabilitation.

Many of these villages were completely demolished in the desperate fighting when the American troops stopped the German advance on Paris. This latest assignment brings the number of returning refugees who are now dependent upon the Methodists for many of the necessities of life, up to nearly 10,000. All welfare activities in this area are operated by them.

They are co-operating with the American Red Cross at Soissons immediately to the north and with the Wellesley unit to the south. Y. M. C. A. barracks from many parts of France are being dismantled and transported to the Methodist area to provide shelter for the destitute people.

Funds for this work are to be supplied out of the $113,000,000 offering of the Methodist Episcopal church. As a part of their world program, the Methodists will spend $12,500,000 in Europe reconstruction during the next five years. Up to date more than $500,000 have been spent on temporary relief alone, consisting mainly of food, clothing and shoes for war sufferers, exclusive of administrative expenses.

Methodists have purchased for their headquarters the historic Elephant Hotel in Chateau Thierry, beside the famous bridge over the Marne which the American troops destroyed to check the advancing Germans. It is situated on the Rue de President Wilson, near the place des Etats Unis.

Any old mouth can make a noise.
